and products of these industries. This is why the trade fair quartet will once again present itself in 2022 as the leading regional communication and trade platform for meeting new customers and expanding existing business contacts.

Due to the international appeal of the trade fairs, a high level of international participation is also expected in 2022. So far, 350 companies from 15 countries have registered, including exhibitors from the USA, Singapore, Turkey, Italy, Germany, China and Vietnam. The Indian industry key players will again present themselves united at their leading trade fairs in 2022. The Indian unit of the ITA is also planning an accompanying conference programme.

12 German exhibitors will exhibit on a joint area of 204 square metres as part of a federal participation, and Italian and Swiss companies are also planning their own country pavilions for 2022. The Federal Ministry for Economic Affairs and Energy has significantly reduced the participation prices for the international satellites of wire and Tube in India for 2022 and optimised hygiene protection at the German Pavilions.
